

[SO Internship Program]

In this document, you can find basic information about the Security Outlines internship program as well as a short introduction of Security Outlines itself. The internship program opens every semester separately. If you have missed the last admission period, you can always contact us, and we will notify you when the next one starts. Also, if you want to participate in Security Outlines outside the framework of the internship program, make sure to get in touch with us as well. In both cases, the contact email address is info-prague@securityoutlines.cz. So do not hesitate to contact us and we will provide you with more detailed information.

What Are the Internship's Requirements?

- The estimated time burden is 80 hours spread over the whole semester.
- An intern is required to write and submit 4 articles, which will be published on the Security Outlines website. The topics of these articles are predominantly up to each individual intern.
- The submission pace should be approx. 1 article per month so that all 4 articles are already published or ready to be published at the end of the respective semester. Apart from that, it is essentially the intern's choice when he/she wants to work on the articles.

What Do You Get?

- As all the articles we publish go through a peer-review process, you receive feedback on each of your articles. This provides you with the opportunity to improve your analytical and writing skills.
- You can include into your CV the internship as well as all of your articles (we have our own ISSN).
- As the internship is recognized by the Institute of Political Science of Charles University, you can earn ECTS credits if you register for the internship "course" that your study program offers.
- You will become a part of a great collective of people who are not only interested in the field of security and international relations but are already working within the field or are preparing to do so. #connections

Who Are We?

Security Outlines, established in its original form in 2007, is a project devoted to contributing to the professional debate about the topics of security and international relations (IR) as well as making these topics more accessible to the general public. Moreover, we want to offer students of security studies and related fields and young security experts an opportunity to express their opinions and views. Our activities consist especially of publishing articles (studies, reports, commentaries, interviews) and weekly summaries of the main security- and IR-related events as well as organizing debates, lectures, and interviews with experts from a wide spectrum of institutions and fields. Although most of our content is in the Czech or Slovak language, we publish also in English. You can find more about us on our website: <https://www.securityoutlines.cz/about-us/>.
